Perenich, Caulfield, Avril Unveils Newly Redesigned Website

Clearwater, FL, August 10, 2009: The personal injury law firm of Perenich, Caulfield, Avril has just launched a newly redesigned website at www.UsaLaw.com and www.VoiceOfTheInjured.com. The new website is designed to educate prospective clients and keep in touch with current and past clients. UsaLaw.com is filled with information for victims of auto and motorcycle accidents, medical malpractice, workers' compensation, and other topics relating to the firm's areas of practice. "We focus exclusively on helping the injured and we wanted to create a site where these people could come for information. We want to educate our clients and the public on their rights and answer all their questions following an accident", said Attorney Bryan Caulfield.

A new online chat feature on the website makes it easier for prospective clients to contact the firm. The new site also links to the firm's blog, Twitter, Facebook, MySpace, Flickr, and YouTube pages. These features will also help the firm keep in touch with clients—past and present—and notify them of events. Attorney Matthew Noyes explained, "Our firm is unique because we keep in touch with past clients. We still see clients at our client appreciation events from cases we settled over 20 years ago!"
